THE EIGHT-HOUR LAW

UNIONS PRODUCED ARGUMENT
IN FAVOR OF PROPOSED LAW

The desperate strait to which the opponents of the "universal eight-hour law" are driven seeking an argument with even a semblance of a reason why it should be defeated is well illustrated by the following quotations from their published statements:

"To shorten the hours of rural labor would further wipe out the margin of profit." While doing that "skilled mechanics would not be benefited, but must endure without compensatory advantage the higher cost of living which the enactment of this law would cause." We must conclude from this that prices will go both down and up as the needs of the argument requires.

"It would reduce wages, throw thousands of men and women out of employment," and at the same time "the fruit growers of the state are threatened with an increase of $10,000,000 yearly in wages of the farm laborers of the state." Wages reduced, ergo wages increased.

"Less farm labor will be done, fewer people employed and small production the result." Compare this with "the passage of the eight hour law would be an alluring inducement to the workers all over the civilized world that California is to be the paradise of labor. The prophecies of what the passage of this bill will do closely resemble the predictions of the Philadelphia National Gazette of Aug. 13, 1833, about public schools:

"One of the chief excitements of industry among those classes (mechanic and other groups) is the hope of earning the means of educating their children. Incentive would be removed and the scheme of state education would thus be a premium for comparative idleness to be taken out of the pockets of the laborious and conscientious. We have no confidence in any compulsory equalization. It has been well observed that it pulls down what is above, but never raises that which is below and often depresses high and low together beneath the level of what was originally the lowest." Or like that of the New York Herald published Aug. 25, 1833: "Universal equality of education is impossible if the trades, manufacture and manual labor are to be successfully prosecuted unless the standard in education be greatly lowered and narrowed."

We can observe now in 1914 how the high and the low have been pulled down by the public schools and how impossible it is to successfully prosecute trades, manufacture and manual labor because of the extension of the state's activities to the conduct of the schools, to the benefits of which all have an equal right on equal terms.

We are told that skilled mechanics and artisans have family ties. That they "live up to the California standard. These workers receive fair wages and already enjoy the advantage of a short day of labor."

All right, let us see. Skilled men "receive fair wages," they "have short day of labor," enables them to "live up to the California standard" and "have family ties."

Glad you admit that, Mr. Opponent. We must conclude that other workers have no "family ties," do not "live up to the California standard" because their wages are small and days of labor long.

Your vote will tell your choice in this matter. Here is an old trick often worked. "They" (the skilled mechanics and artisans) "would not be benefited, but must endure without compensatory advantage the higher cost of living which the enactment of this law would cause."

Just pit one half of the workers against the other half and the masters of the bread can get away with the swag without trouble. The skilled mechanics know that the greatest menace to their continued ability to "live up to the California standard" is from the ranks of those who are compelled to work long hours at their present vocations; who, tiring of that, find it easier to displace the skilled men than to organize their fellows and force the short work day in their own line through their unions. These men are down, the lash is heavy on their backs, and the skilled men are to their rescue because they want all men to have opportunity to live up to their best, and they want greater security for what they already have.

Com. Glendale Central Labor Council.

FAVORS PROHIBITION

NOTED MAN TELLS MANY REASONS WHY SALOON IS HARMFUL

By Robert J. Burdette.

Now about the power of prohibitory laws to prohibit—the laws of the state against murder do not entirely prevent murder. But nevertheless, I am opposed to licensing one murderer to every so many thousand persons even on petition of a majority of the property owners in the block, that we may have all the murder that is desirable in the community under wise regulations, with a little income for the municipality. I believe in the absolute prohibition of murder.

The laws of the country prohibiting stealing do not entirely prevent stealing. Nevertheless, I am opposed to a high license system of stealing, provided that all theft shall be restricted to certain authorized thieves, who shall steal only between the hours of six a. m. and 11:30 p. m., except Sunday, when no stealing shall be done except by stealth, entrance to be made in all cases on that day by the back door, and at the thief's risk. I believe in laws that absolutely forbid theft at any hour, on any day of the week. And, on the same ground, and just as positively, do I believe in the prohibition of the liquor traffic. And I never said I did not. And I say that I did. And I do.

I do say that the best way to make a man a temperate man is to teach him not to drink. But a saloon is not a kindergarten of sobriety. Your town is under no obligation to any saloon. All that it is, in respectability and permanent prosperity, it has grown to be without the assistance of the liquor traffic.

It is deliberately claimed by some people who appear to be sane on other subjects, that properly to instruct a sober people in ways of sobriety, and to teach total abstinence the beauty and virtues of temperance, you must license the selling of liquor in the town. The man who originated that idea ought to have it stuffed and exhibited at the Panama exposition, and he should be leaned up beside it as a part of the exhibit.

As to prohibition in Pasadena, if any liquor man thinks there is big money and a safe thing in running a "blind pig" in Pasadena, let him come here and try it. If he has any love for his liberty and pocketbook, however, he will do well to consult the fellows who have tried it, if he can find them; we can't. They are in hiding somewhere out in the desert. "Running" a "joint" in Pasadena is like running a powder mill in a smelting furnace. It's mighty exciting while it lasts, but it doesn't last long enough to be profitable.

If the saloon men insist on quoting me on this topic, let them commit this to memory, that they may repeat it as they need it: I do not know one good thing about the saloon. It is an evil thing that has not one redeeming thing in all its history to commend it to good men. It breaks the laws of God and man. It desecrates the Sabbath; it profanes the name of religion; it defiles public order; it tramples under the foot the tenderest feelings of humanity; it is a moral pestilence that blights the very atmosphere of town and country; it is a stain upon honesty; a blur upon purity; a clog upon progress, a check upon the nobler impulses; it is an incentive to falsehood, deceit and crime.

Search through the history of this hateful thing, and read one page over which some mother can bow her grateful head and thank God for all the saloon did for her boy. There is no such record. All its history is written in tears and blood, with smears of shame and stains of crime, and dark blots of disgrace.

WOOLWINE MASS MEETING

A special feature of the mass meeting to be held at the high school Saturday (tomorrow) evening will be original campaign songs by two of Glendale's most prominent citizens, sung by local vocalists. Thomas Lee Woolwine, candidate for district attorney, will speak on "Equal enforcement of the Law." Mr. Woolwine is a forceful and fearless speaker and readily holds the closest attention of his audience. People throughout the county who are especially interested in the strict enforcement of the laws governing conditions surrounding our young people are interested in Mr. Woolwine's candidacy and every citizen interested in securing the best environment for our future citizen, the Twentieth Century Child, is urged to attend the meeting Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

REPUBLICAN MEETING

CANDIDATES ARE OUT IN FORCE AND MAKE PLEA TO VOTERS

There was a Republican campaign meeting held in the high school auditorium last evening. The meeting was presided over by John Robert White, president of the Glendale Fredericks' club. The chairman in his opening remarks said he would not have much to say as the time would be taken up by old stalwart Republicans, remarking that "everybody knows I am a stalwart Republican."

C. F. Roberts of Long Beach was the first speaker. Mr. Roberts is a candidate for congress from the ninth district. Mr. Roberts made comparisons as to the conditions of business in 1912 under a Republican administration, with 1914 under a Democratic administration. The figures he presented showed more men out of employment now than in 1912; more cars idle now than then, more commercial failures, more bank failures, and a general depression in business. Mr. Roberts was the only speaker of the evening who gave any logical reasons why there should be a change of administration.

Mrs. Ella Meeker, candidate for representative from the Sixty-first district, spoke intelligently, explaining that she was not so anxious to have new laws passed as she is to have a chance to help repeal some of the laws now on the statute books. Mrs. Meeker says she believes in doing things in a common sense way. This lady seems to stand in the good graces of the Republicans of the district she is seeking to represent, and without doubt will be nominated at the primary election next Tuesday.

Joseph Ford, candidate for district attorney to succeed John Fredericks, spoke for three quarters of an hour as to his efficiency for the office, and the efficiency of Republican candidates for other offices. Mr. Ford is an able speaker and is well fitted for the office which he now seeks, he now being deputy district attorney. A man by the name of Robinson, who is a candidate for congress from the ninth district spoke briefly, explaining concerning his qualifications.

Judge Willis also spoke in behalf of several of the Republican candidates.

Albert L. Shinn, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, spoke on party loyalty, and asked the voters to give him a chance to put in four years of active service for the people of California. Judging from the gentleman's remarks he belongs to the old-line Republicans and he has not much use for progressive ideas in politics. Contrary to the opinion of many of us he has no use for the existence of a railroad commission.

Mr. Shinn predicts that there will be a terrible political fight waged in California between the time of the primary election and November 3. He is a pleasant gentleman and a forceful speaker.

CARNAGE CONTINUES

Dispatches from the war zone indicate that the Germans are occupying Brussels and that the Belgian army has retreated to the heavily fortified city of Antwerp. The city is fitted to accommodate the entire Belgian army and should they take refuge there the Germans might find it necessary to leave a large portion of their forces before Antwerp to protect their flank as they march on France.

The suggestion is also made that the Belgian main army, instead of retreating upon Antwerp, may be moving to the south of Brussels to join the armies of the allies in their first stand against the Germans, as the latter turn their faces toward the south and Paris.

The Germans are pushing their way across Belgium with vigor on both banks of the Meuse, toward the line upon which the allies will make their first great stand.

The French advance continues in Alsace without any serious check. Dispatches from St. Petersburg announce that the Russians occupy Gumbinnen in East Prussia where they captured twelve guns and took many prisoners, preparing a way for the advance into Germany.

The combined Montenegrin and Serbian armies are invading Herzegovina.

BARACAS ATTENTION!

Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock the Presbyterian Baracas will complete the work on the playground at Fifth and Cedar streets. All members who can come are requested to be there.

ENJOY GARDEN PARTY

PALM VILLA WAS SCENE OF DELIGHTFUL GARDEN PARTY YESTERDAY

Under the rose-embowered pergolas, waving palms and magnolia trees, amid the graceful ferns and fragrant roses, the ladies of the Tropico Thursday Afternoon club and their guests enjoyed a garden and card party at Palm Villa, the home of Mrs. David H. Imler, Thursday afternoon. Seated at the many card tables that dotted the lawn were many prominent club and society women of Los Angeles, Hollywood, Glendale and Tropico. Five hundred was most thoroughly enjoyed. When the scores were tallied the highest was awarded Mrs. Frank B. McKenney; prizes were awarded Mrs. Charles A. Barker, Mrs. M. D. Chamberlain, Mrs. Herman Paine, Miss Clara Provolt and Miss Freda Borwick. Mrs. Frank Peters and Mrs. Ernest J. Morgan captured the booby prizes.

Yesterday also marked the anniversary of Mrs. Charles A. Barker, president of the club. A large bouquet and a cake were presented Mrs. Barker as a reminder of the milestone which this indefatigable club worker had reached. Mrs. Wesley H. Bullis, chairman of the ways and means committee of the club, Miss Ida M. Meyers, treasurer, Mrs. Martha McClure, Mrs. Joseph H. Webster, Mrs. Willis M. Kimball, Mrs. Charles Woolsey, Mrs. Samuel A. Pollock, Miss Regina Bacon, Miss Rachel McClure and Miss Marjorie Imler, assisted Mrs. Charles A. Barker and Mrs. David H. Imler in the entertainment of the guests.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the women of Tropico is being held at K. P. hall this afternoon under the auspices of the Tropico Thursday Afternoon club, at which Dr. Jessie A. Russell is giving the official record of all the candidates who are running for office.

TRIPLE K CLUB GUESTS OF MRS. VAN SANT

At the close of an industrious hour or two of fancy sewing, Mrs. Plummer Van Sant's guests, who were invited to spend the afternoon with her in her home, 1436 West Colorado boulevard, were rewarded for their toil with an elaborate collation served at one large table in the dining room, where enormous pansies mingled their velvety petals with the soft tendrils of fern and peeped out in splendor from the center of the lace-covered board. A surprise for the guests lurked in the folds of the small napkins that lay folded at each place, said surprise being a beautiful crocheted letter attached to the different name cards and corresponding to the initial of the surname inscribed thereon.

Those present to enjoy the afternoon and Mrs. Van Sant's gracious hospitality were members of the Triple K club, all of whom will enjoy a picnic with their husbands and families at Griffith park some day next week.

TOURISTS ARE SAFE

Glendale friends of J. H. Wells and family will be glad to know that Mrs. Wells and daughter Anita, who have been touring Europe, have escaped from the war zone and are safe in England. A cablegram from E. W. Pack of Sussex, England, but formerly of Glendale, to Mr. F. H. Vesper of this city states that Mrs. Wells and daughter are with them and are safe.

Mr. Wells did not accompany his family abroad, but is busily engaged in the culture of pecans at Baldwin, Fla.

OCTOBER FIRST TO BE "NEWSPAPER DAY"

Plan is to Have Residents Mail Copies of Papers to Friends

Following the example set in San Diego and Imperial counties, the Los Angeles county board of supervisors set aside October 1 as "Newspaper Day." On that day the residents of the county will be expected to send copies of their family newspapers to friends at a distance. If every person will do this it is clear that more than half a million newspapers will be sent east from this county on that date.

On October 1 the Evening News will make an effort to present matter to persons at a distance and it is hoped that every family receiving this paper will mail it to a friend. This will go a long way towards advertising Glendale.

SURPRISE PARTY GIVEN AS FAREWELL

The efforts of friends to surprise Miss Marie Schwarze with a party in her home, corner Third and Belmont streets, last evening proved more than successful and as a consequence an exceptionally huge time was enjoyed by all who arrived in a body at the Schwarze home to bid the aforesaid young lady a fond farewell and wish her a safe journey to Imperial Valley, where she expects to go very shortly.

The early hours of the night were devoted to games and merry pastimes, the prize awarded in a unique guessing contest having been captured by Miss Helen Wright and Miss Hazel Pierce.

At a late hour delicious refreshments were served, the ices, cake and candies having all been carried out in pink and white in keeping with the dainty posies that adorned the home.

Guests for the evening, including the honoree, were: The Misses Helen Wright, Grace Shropshire, Ruth Pierce, Jennie Thede, Gail Hamilton, Helena Schwarze, Margaret McOmber and Messrs. William Johnson, Curtis Johnson, Mark Francy, George Hastings, Paul Pierce, Albert Ginn, Harold Salisbury, Ralph Lusby, Dick Royce of Glendale and Mr. Bruce Clark of Glendora.

RETURN FROM A SIX WEEKS' CAMPING AND AUTO TRIP

J. W. Venable and family of Glendale and T. E. Venable of Redondo returned Thursday from a month and a half trip in which they autoed through a good share of Southern California, stopping and camping in the Big Bear valley, the Little Bear valley, Warner's Hot Springs, Glenview Hot Springs and Strawberry Flats, and visited in San Diego, San Bernardino and other towns. At Strawberry Flats they met many Glendale people and thought the place was an ideal one for camping.

Miss Lucille Parker of Brand boulevard was a luncheon guest Tuesday of Mrs. Gus H. Pulliam in her attractive home, 121 Cedar street.

GENEVIEVE ROWE ENTERTAINS
Orange street entertained on Wednesday a few of her little friends in honor of Cora Sayers of Los Angeles who has been her guest for several days.

Those invited were Ruth Spafford, Lois Mock, Marguerite Paul, Avis Thompson, Audrey Geier, Margaret McCluskey, Beryl Caswell, Violet Mock, Alice Wood and Elva McCullough, who has recently come to Glendale from Coffeyville, Kansas.

Refreshments were served picnic fashion on the lawn by Mrs. Rowe, assisted by Mrs. R. H. Poole and Mrs. I. J. Spafford. Needless to say the little ladies very much enjoyed the afternoon.

FOR 'LIEUT. GOVERNOR

Mrs. Helen K. Williams is a candidate before the nearly general primary for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket and is making a canvass for support in every way creditable and dignified, albeit marked with a forcefulness and shrewdness characteristic of an old campaigner, which she is not. Her most potent argument is for the presence of women all along the line in official life in order to more completely safeguard the interests of women and children. Shamefully neglected in many respects heretofore where these interests were left to men only. It took twenty years of hard work on the part of women in a middle west state to get a "man" legislature to raise the age of consent from twelve to sixteen years. Had there been even one woman member at any session the task would have been easier. While being a woman is not a valid reason for voting for her, be careful lest old-time prejudice influence you to say you won't. Legislative capacity and official intelligence are no longer determined by sex. S. P.

ST. MARGARET GIRLS

At a recent meeting of the St. Margaret Girls in the home of Miss Ethel Land, 305 North Maryland avenue, many little bits of interest transpired, chief among which was the discussion and plans for a dancing party to be given in the Masonic temple some time in October. These young ladies will also commence shortly to improve the grounds surrounding St. Mark's Episcopal church, corner Fifth and Louise streets, planting as they will, grass, trees, flowers and vines. Other business transactions took place, at the close of which dainty refreshments were served by the gracious hostess.

Saturday afternoon the St. Margaret girls will be entertained socially by the president, Miss Harriett Wells, in her home, 1504 West Broadway.

The Rev. W. S. Blackburn of 235 Cedar street left this morning for Corona, where he will spend the week end with his daughter, Mrs. C. E. Byrkit.

Monrovia has a man who says he has forgotten who he is and, as no one in the city has been able to identify him, the officers are in a quandary as to what is the thing to do.

At the Lambs one night a number of players forsaking for once talk of shop, were discussing the wonders of invention and of discovery during the last century, when We Wolf Hopper got fresh.

During the lull of the conversation the tall comedian ventured to observe, with becoming gravity, that to him the most wonderful of inventions was dynamite.

"Why dynamite?" asked some one, falling for Hopper's gag.

"Because there's nothing in the world that can hold a candle to it," said Hopper.

Whereupon they chased him from the place.

WHY JOHN C. CLINE SHOULD BE SHERIFF

He has lived in Los Angeles 45 years and everybody is familiar with his clean public record.

In 1894 as sheriff he handled the great American Railway Union strike without the aid of the militia, by appointing special deputies from the ranks of labor, to prevent disorder and the destruction of property. Thus in his wisdom demonstrating that men in any walk of life, put upon their honor, will observe their trust. Adv. 304-tf

SEE CALIFORNIA NOW

As was freely predicted from the first, the war in Europe is turning the attention of the tourists who usually spend their summers abroad to the attractions of Southern California. Already they are making reservations in all the resorts of this section and especially those of the mountain regions.

The men who have charge of these hotels and camps feel certain they will have more visitors this summer than ever before and they also predict a great crowd for the coming winter.

They will find, as thousands of others have before them, that their own country has attractions Europe cannot equal and that what they now regard as a war privation will turn out to be a lasting pleasure.

Bathers at Ocean Park are being seriously troubled by the oil which has washed up on the beach from the coast.

PRIMARY CAMPAIGN ALMOST ENDED

Next Tuesday will bring to an end the political primary election campaign in California. The candidates have worked hard and many of them have injured health and lessened the size of their pocket book.

Office holders who had not put themselves in a position to become acquainted with the voters since the time of the campaign at which they were elected to office have been traveling over the county or district the past two months shaking hands with everybody. This way of doing is absolutely necessary for candidates who wish to have any chance of success to get out and meet the people.

"PERSONAL LIBERTY"

From an eight-inch square advertisement surmounted by a picture of a fierce looking horseman and companions (while a lower corner of the same picture was ornamented by a beer bottle) we find a printed historical sketch of the horseman who was declared to be a great lover of freedom, and for this or some other reason was slain by Napoleon. This history says: "This freedom he demanded for himself and willingly gave it to others. In this respect he is no different than are our thousands of Tyrolean citizens. Personal and national liberty to those of Tyrolean blood is a religion. To a man they will fight for it and to a man they will die for it. When asked to vote for prohibition they do as would do the great patriot Hofer—vote against it. 'Thou shalt not eat this, thou shalt not drink that' is insolent legislation to those of Tyrolean blood." We fear this volunteer historian of the soldier Hofer, whom Napoleon slew, and the many thousands of Tyrolese like him, will have a hard time localizing the whole of personal liberty around a beer bottle, though that would be all the advertiser would care about. Should Hofer come back and lead the thousands of his countrymen in a fight for "personal liberty to eat and drink what they pleased" they would find the entire police force of Los Angeles enforcing this same "insolent legislation" before they could get a square meal, for every item is now under local or government supervision, and Tyrolean blood or any other would obey the law. More, should the resurrected Hofer, or the historical agent, assume it to be freedom to dress up in his wife's wrappings, scant though they be, he would not go a block before he would be run in.

The fact is, what we eat and drink and wear are just the lines where prohibition (law) does step in and tell us we shall or shall not, and while Hofer and his freedom-loving countrymen (put in a false light by this historian) may vote against it, they that are wise will even now begin to get out of the way of the "steam (dry) roller." W. W.

Two El Monte boys broke their arms about the same time Tuesday. Stanley McCoy suffered through a fall and Clay Lillian's trouble came while trying to crank his father's auto.

NORTH GLENDALE

Mrs. Harry Longland of 1001 San Rafael street is visiting friends in Corona, where she expects to remain at least two weeks.

Mrs. Robert Miller of 1610 Fairmont street had the pleasure of entertaining for the day her mother, Mrs. Parks of California street, Santa Monica, last Wednesday.

Mrs. I. M. Van Strum of Ruth street is enjoying a visit with old-time friends in Los Angeles at the present time.

Mr. Earl Clossom of Gardena is the house guest of his uncle and family, Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Drake of 1639 Ruth street for the week.

Mr. C. Elder of 1617 Ruth street, who has been employed by Mr. Whitlow of Kenneth road, leaves in a few days for Redondo, where he will assume the management of a six-hundred acre ranch.

Mrs. T. W. Sampson of 1659 Ruth street entertained informally last Wednesday evening at a prettily appointed dinner Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ereshman and family, also Mrs. Ereshman's father, Mr. Hart, who is visiting his daughter at the present time.

Mrs. George Alsten of the Kenwood apartments entertained as her dinner guests last evening Miss Ruby F. Wright and Mr. John R. Alston of North Glendale.

Mr. Harry Longland of San Rafael street, with a party of friends, shouldered guns and camp outfits last Wednesday evening and started for the mountains where they expect to remain until they can bring back enough deer to treat all their friends. As all are very good sportsmen, of course the friends are anticipating a good feast of the venison they have promised to them.

Miss Ruth J. Wright of 1649 Ruth street is recovering from a serious illness that has confined her to the bed for the past week.

Mrs. J. E. McKeever of North Brand boulevard entertained with a beautiful dancing party last night. Pink roses and fern in abundance formed a perfect setting for this pretty party. An orchestra from the city furnished entrancing music to the strains of which the following guests tripped the light fantastic until the early hours of morning: Mr. and Mrs. Cave, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McMullen, W. Myton, Mr. and Mrs. McDaniels, Mr. and Mrs. F. Cook. Delicious refreshments were served at 11 a. m.

INVESTIGATE WILLIS' RECORD

Glendale, Cal., Aug. 21, 1914.

Editor Evening News: At a public gathering at the high school last night Judge Willis of the superior court of Los Angeles county appeared and requested the voters of Glendale that he might be re-elected, and stated that his request is based on his official record. Before casting our votes for Judge Willis it might be well to investigate his record and ascertain if he merits the consideration asked for.

I would like to call attention to the part he took in a certain "blind pig" case. Some time ago Officers Miller and Everett, with the assistance of two or three citizens, after midnight on a Saturday night made a raid, arresting several parties, and hauled away an enormous quantity of whiskey, beer, etc. (59 packages). In due time a hard-fought trial, at an enormous expense to the taxpayers of Glendale, resulted in a conviction of the party accused. The people were jubilant and congratulated themselves on the prospect of being free from such resorts, where, according to the officers, even minors were allowed to gather and take part in the orgies.

However, an appeal was made by the party convicted to the superior court and Judge Willis actually threw the case out of court and set at naught the hard work of Glendale's attorneys and officers to rid the town of vice.

I asked Judge Willis after the meeting last night on what ground he threw the case out of court and his reply was that "The verdict was not properly worded by the jury, that a conviction should have been made on a different charge."

Now for one who believes in protecting our boys and girls by removing evil influences from the community I prefer to cast my vote for public officials who will enforce the spirit of the law and not for one who has made void, through what appears to me, a mere technicality, all the good work done by conscientious officers who had made an honest effort to do their duty.

JASPER N. MCGILLIS.

COFFEE SUPPLY IN DANGER OF SHORTAGE

Should the present war conditions continue, this country will be face to face with a coffee famine in three months, says an exchange. Not a pound of coffee is being shipped from coffee countries. The supply on hand will last about ninety days.

Coffee is going up in price. "Spot" coffee—that is the coffee in this country in the hands of importers—is 3 cents higher than a week ago and 1 cent higher than on July 1. The prospects are that it will go still higher. The market is also in a panic over the threatened shortage despite the efforts of some of the more thoughtful and sober-minded importers, who hold that the price will drop shortly again.—Sentinel, Aug. 11.

THE SEDUCTIVE ADVERTISE- MENT

"I'll sell my house," said Hawley Roe
 And build another on the hill,
 Where all the fashionables live,
 These common districts make me ill."

And so he summoned instantly
 A real estate to his bosom,
 A blithe and elegant young man
 Just bubbling with enthusiasm.
 The real estate saw the place,
 Examined it from stone to slate,
 And said "I'll sell it for you sure,
 The possibilities are great.
 I'll write the ad this very day,
 Call in tonight and you may read
 it."

A house like yours is rather scarce,
 I know a score of folks who need
 it.

Roe called. He read the ad with ease,
 With growing interest and surprise.

The real estate's polished art
 Brought honest wonder to his eyes.
 The hardwood floors, the noble yard,
 The handy features of the place,
 All these were mentioned in a style
 Of wondrous literary grace.

"It suits?" the real estate asked,
 The author's smile upon his lips.
 "You bet it does," responded Roe,
 His hands a-resting upon his hips.

FOR GOVERNOR

"Hon. John Doe."
 (There are 20 of him.)

An open letter to whom it fits—by Richard Roe.

Hon. John Doe, candidate for governor:

Dear Sir: From sundry paragraphs appearing in the papers, from sundry pictures posted on the bill boards and from certain certificates of character and personal machine-written letters received by mail, I am made fully aware of the fact that you are a candidate for the high office of governor and, having assisted in electing governors since 1852 and in that time learned by experience that I can talk with you more freely before nomination and election than after, and per contra, you will be more likely to listen to me now as you are today a humble suppliant asking a favor of the real ruler of the nation, a citizen king, armed with the scepter of the ballot.

You are asking a great honor at the hands of the sovereign people whose servant (not master) you are to be if elected. The state is an empire of boundless resources of manifold and varied interests and material development will, in the very nature of things, make demands on the executive calling for intelligent and administrative qualities of a high order.

That you would if elected meet all reasonable requirements in these directions may be safely concluded, but—

Above the development of these more material interests rises the higher and more important interests of the moral and physical welfare of the masses. This can be secured only by conservative forces that strengthen and build up rather than demoralize and weaken. Measured by these tests where do you stand?

In your speeches as reported before you announced a single measure that you was for you lost no time in telling what you were against.
 "I am opposed to a 'dry' California" was your first pronouncement, and the wonder is why you should care to speak of that at all. "Wet" and "dry" comes before the voters of the state as a separate and distinct proposition entirely divorced from any party action, and the only seeming motive you could have for the uncalled for declaration was to curry favor as a party man with "wet" voters, mindful of the fact that what you gained with the "wets" you you would lose with the "drys," who would cut you because of your declaration, however well disposed to regard you otherwise as a candidate.

You see from this outline, my dear Doe, that many citizens are becoming alarmed already, as "coming events cast their shadows before," indicating a disposition on the part of state and municipal officials to let up a little on moral restraints and make it more "easy" for visitors whom we have invited to come and see us next year. That this "lifting of the lid" is to be on during the fair is already outlined by official action in San Francisco and one result is already apparent, as our coast towns are fast filling up thus early with a class of undesirables whom nobody wants, but surest to come. If our police force is over busy now, what will be the situation later on?
 An "open policy" on the part of state and city officials would be an "open invitation" for the class of visitors to stay away whose presence is in every way the most desirable
 during the exposition or any time.
 Hoping for the reasons set forth you may not be elected, I remain truly yours.

RICHARD ROE.

 ties are combining to keep a good

 It was discharged and the ball passed

 THE CLEAN BAKERY

The Oldest Bakery The Freshest Goods

Our aim is to give the public all we can for their money, considering quality. Quality not only means the finished product, but the materials used should be the very best.

There are hundreds of adulterations used in the bakery business today regardless of Pure Food Laws.

I personally have followed the bakery business all my life, and have worked in thirty bake-shops between Michigan and California. If I were to buy bakery goods for myself or family, I would make a personal investigation of the shop in which I intended to trade.

Cleanliness is another great factor. We advertise clean and are here to back it up. Anyone doubting this assertion will kindly call and be convinced.

We have opened a branch store at Brand Blvd. and Second St.
 for the convenience of our patrons in that locality and will greatly appreciate their patronage.

WHAT EUROPE PAYS FIGHTERS

The Russian soldier is the most poorly paid in all the world. A private in the ranks of the army of the czar gets $3.78 a year, compared to $180 and $300 the United States pays its men of the ranks. England pays its privates $86.15 a year;
 France, $20.40; Germany, $18.80; Austria, $8.12. Remember, these figures are for a whole year and represent the total amount of cash paid
 the fighting men in that period.

A Russian major-general gets only $762 a year, or about as much as the United States pays its sergeant-majors, the highest non-commissioned rank. Our major-generals get $8000 a year. The other countries are much more generous with officers of higher rank and pay a minimum of about half the United States standard.

A better example of the Russian contrast is shown in what is paid an officer holding the title of general over there. A Russian general gets $1272. The United States pays its second lieutenants, young fellows
 just out of West Point, $1700 a year.

WOMEN GETTING THERE

Mrs. Lizzie M. Sheldon of Lawrence, Kansas, has been nominated as one of six candidates for superior judge by the recent state wide primary on the Republican ticket.
 And why not? It took almost dyna-mital force for women to break into the legal profession, but she is making good and "Judge Sheldon" will be an honor to the bench of the Sunflower state.

Santa Barbara is still torn up over its sea wall controversy, but a majority appear to favor the heavier type and it is expected that the trustees will abide by their decision.

Chief of Police Corrington of Riverside found Pedro Bascus lying asleep on the railroad track and pulled him off just before the arrival of a rapidly moving train.

Reports from Long Beach indicate that the war will bring prosperity to the factory there which is engaged in manufacturing potash from kelp gathered along the beach.
